KARNATAKA STATE OPEN UNIVERSITY

Karnataka State Open University (KSOU), Mysuru, is a State Public University established by the act of State Legislature in 1992, and was brought into force on 1st June 1996. Ever since its establishment, KSOU has been pro-actively engaged in fulfilling the national objectives of higher education i.e., to achieve ACCESS, EQUITY, QUALITY, AFFORDABILITY and ACCOUNTABILITY. A Pioneer and Premier Centre of Higher Education under Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system, KSOU was carved out of illustrious University of Mysore in 1996. The Open University was established in pursuance of National Policy on Education, NPE-1986 on the recommendation of Central Education Advisory Board MHRD, Government of India. The working professionals, households, the disadvantaged sections of the society and people from backward regions, who cannot pursue education through 'in- class'/conventional mode get new opportunities to learn through distance education mode. The role of KSOU is vital in enhancing the GER of the state to much higher level. The KSOU has created an excellent academic and administrative infrastructure, not only at its headquarters in Mysore, but also at its 33 regional centers across the state.

International Conference Theme:

'Relevance of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's Perspectives on Development in the Contemporary World'

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar was the principal architect of Indian Constitution and the edifice of India rests on enshrined democratic ideals. He tirelessly worked towards establishing a just and equal society where everyone is mindfully treated with dignity and respect his freedom of choice. He fought for India when she wanted freedom and he worked for India's glory when she needed an architecture of the constitution. Dr. B. R. Ambedkar's contribution towards social and economic development of India can never be forgotten. Dr. Ambedkar was not only a learned scholar and an eminent jurist but also a revolutionary leader who fought against all social evils. It was a time when India needed a paradigm shift and transformation, when India needed a torch bearer of equal and just society. As a towering leader of justice and equity he stood like a rock fought against established dogmas and he deserves to be remembered for his desire to make India a better country in the world to live in. The Columbia University at its Special convocation on June 5, 1952 conferred the LL.D. degree (Honoris Causa) on Dr. Ambedkar in recognition of his drafting the Constitution of India. The citation read as: "The degree is being conferred in recognition of the work done by him in connection with the drafting of India's Constitution". The University hailed him as "one of India's leading citizens, a great social reformer and valiant upholder of human rights". He was conferred with the highest civilian award of the country "Bharat Ratna" in 1990 posthumously in recognition of exceptional service to the country.

Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar was a par excellence scholar and multifaceted leader - Indian jurist, economist, social reformer and political leader, a parliamentarian, a constitutionalist of world repute. He struggled to restructure the Indian society on the most egalitarian and humanitarian principles. He was the first Indian political thinker who realized the necessity and applicability of the western pattern of democracy to India and he introduced fundamental rights for equal social and economic justice, freedom and dignity to all Indian citizens irrespective of caste, creed, or religion. It is in this context that New York Times wrote, "The whole world acknowledges him as the leader of untouchables. But few realized his permanent impact on the constitutional set up of India". The text prepared by Ambedkar provided constitutional guarantees and protections for a wide range of civil liberties for individual citizens, including freedom of religion, the abolition of untouchability and the outlawing of all forms of discrimination.

Times of London wrote, “In the social and political life during the last period of the British Empire in India, Dr. Ambedkar's name occupied a prime position. His face reflected his courage and resoluteness, and although his intellect had no parallel in the world, he was not too proud. He could never be flashy”. In this background, a two days international conference deliberates on the Relevance of Dr.B.R.Ambedkar's Perspectives on Development in the Contemporary World. The world's social and economic orders have been shaken with emergence of geo-political conflicts, ravages of social and economic fabrics of life, and increasing income or economic inequality. There is an urgent need to discuss, deliberate and offer policy suggestions for mid-course correction and to establish equal and just society aspired by Dr B R Ambedkar. In this context the following themes and sub- themes (but not restricted to) are identified to invite scholarly research and policy papers by the faculty, students, researchers and policy makers.
